INTRODUCTION

This bibliography is an extraction based on Hanne E. Strømø and Halvor Kongshavn: Nordisk juridisk festschriftbibliografi: innholdet i juridiske festschrift fra Danmark, Finland, Island, Norge og Sverige 1870-1997 (1998).² It is updated until 1999 and contains references to Nordic or international legal essays written in English (for the most), German and French.

Legal festschriften are anthologies made in honour of a person, event or an institution related to law. Subjects as philosophy of law, sociology of law and criminology are also included. The term "Nordic" includes the countries of Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway and Sweden.

The oldest festschrift in this bibliography is from 1921.³ From that year and until the end of 1998 we have registered 84 legal festschriften which contain appr. 750 articles in English, German or French. Of these 84 festschriften, 56 are from the years 1981 and onwards; twenty are from the 50s, 60s and 70s. Half of them – 42 – are Swedish, seventeen Norwegian, twelve Finnish, eleven Danish – and one is Icelandic. One festschrift is Nordic.⁴

There are two entries to the bibliography:

- an index sorted on the legal subjects, and
- an index sorted alphabetically on the author

– each reference refers to the festschrift where it is published:

Aarnio, Aulis

• Literature and the philosophy of law.

In: Peczenik, Aleksander (1997), p. 13-26

means the article "Literature and the philosophy of law" by the author Aulis Aarnio published in the festschrift for Peczenik, Aleksander (1997) – which is found in the alphabetical list of the festschriften:

Peczenik, Alexander (1997)

- Justice, morality and society. A tribute to Aleksander Peczenik on the occasion of his 60th birthday 16 November 1997. Lund: Juristförlaget, 1997. 500 p.

² [Nordic Legal Bibliography of Festschriften: the Contents in Legal Festschriften from, Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway and Sweden 1870-1997]. - Oslo: Ad Notam Gyldendal/Det juridiske bibliotekfond, 1998. - 496 p. - ISBN 82-417-0984-6

³ Wrede, Rabbe Axel (1921)-

⁴ Nordic Council for Tax Research (1993).

Some articles are listed twice (or more) in the systematical list. Articles with two or more authors are found under each author's name in the alphabetical list.⁵

A few translations have been made where necessary. The titles of the festschriften are not translated.

As law librarians we note a growing international interest in Nordic legal literature. Few foreigners read any Nordic language. We hope this bibliography will contribute to make parts of the Nordic law accessible for foreign researchers and readers.

All comments are welcomed.⁶
